Buckingham Primary Students Attend QuickStart Kids Day at UVa

Charlottesville, Virginia (3/17/2015) – QuickStart Tennis of Central Virginia (QCV) is pleased to report 18 members of the Buckingham County Primary School National Junior Tennis & Learning chapter after-school program attended the UVa Men’s Tennis match against Clemson as part of a QuickStart Kids Day community outreach. The second graders were greeted by UVa Men’s Tennis Coach Brian Boland and watched the team beat Clemson by a score of 6–1 for their 127th consecutive ACC Conference victory. Program Director Zelda Maxie and two helpers made the 40-mile trek from Dillwyn, Virginia in a school bus.

Kids received a Cav Man’s Crew t-shirt, team posters and a Go Bananas! package with a drawstring bag, poster, bracelet and the “WHY do tennis players eat bananas?” card that features Coach Boland as the tennis role model.

Lynda Harrill, QuickStart Coordinator, says, “The kids had a great time! They got to see some excellent college tennis and did a lot of cheering for the team. Most UVa students were on spring break, so it’s terrific to have those 18 young voices urging the players on. Coach Zelda has done a wonderful job of exposing her students to our sport and we wanted her to bring them to this event as recognition of her excellent work.”
